

Moose Cree
First Nation

WETUMROAD

Information and updates for the 2014 - 2015 season

UPDATE FOR USERS

Thank you all for your patience during the construction and opening of the Moose Cree Wetum Road. We would like to provide an update to the public about the general conditions of use while the road is open:

- > The road is open to privately owned, licensed and insured vehicles only.
- > The road is use at your own risk. Drivers are asked to use caution while on the road as it is a winter seasonal road with natural bumps, ice, and occasional soft spots.
- > The Maximum Vehicle Weight Class is up to a standard sized 4 x 4 pickup trucks. Cars, vans, and SUVs are permitted but please drive according to conditions.
- > Please obey speed limits for the safety of you, your passengers, and other drivers.
- > Please buckle up for the safety of you and your passengers.
- > Please obey all signs on the road and yield to all contracting equipment on the road.
- > Please do not litter or throw debris on the road. Respect the land and environment that was provided for you to drive on.
- > Random police check points will be established for the safety of you and our community.

There is a section of hilly, curvy road between the Wetum Road and Fraserdale that is maintained less often than other areas, especially on weekends. Use caution in this area.

It is encouraged that users of the road refrain from any hunting, harvesting of wood, or using the road for any purpose other than transportation to visit our neighbors to the south.

Moose Cree First Nation values the protection and conservation of our natural resources in our homelands and this seasonal road is a short window of road connection to the south. We thank all of the dedicated workers, the contractors, Moose Cree Group of Companies, and the funding sources that make this road a reality every year. Any questions about the road can be forwarded to Executive Services at Moose Cree First Nation.

Meegwetch and safe travels.