First Nations Food, Nutrition, and Environment Study (FNFNES)

Results for Moose Cree First Nation

PRESENTATION OF STUDY RESULTS: Tuesday, March 4th, 2014 at 6:30 p.m. TCJMC Community Hall

In the Fall of 2012, Moose Cree First Nation participated in the AFN Food Study.

A summary of what was collected from the community includes, 83 household interviews, 90 Traditional food samples, 59 hair samples and 45 drinking water samples. Surface water samples were also collected for pharmaceutical analysis and were taken from the Moose River at the water intake, the community discharge and near the lagoon.

Stephane Decelles, Nutrition Research Coordinator, and Dr. William David, Director of Implementing Rights Unit of the Assembly of First Nations, will present the results of the study to the Moose Cree First Nation MEMBERSHIP.
